THREE TYPES OF SHIPMENT: When you ship troops, you can choose one:

- Ship normally from reserves to one territory.
- Ship from one territory to another (at rates of destination).
- Ship from one territory to reserves (at stronghold rates).

THREE TYPES OF INTERJECTION*: Once at any point during Ship & Move phase choose one:

- Go first, last, or between any other factions.
- Swap your position with another faction.
- Force another player to go now, and you take their place in turn order.

RETREAT: Once battle plans are revealed (step 4.3) you may decide to retreat.

Your units may be shipped back to reserves at stronghold shipping rates. Your Treachery Cards can be saved by paying spice for each equal to your leader's strength.

If your leader would've been killed in battle they die. Spice you use to spice dial and retreat is paid to the spice bank.

You cannot retreat if the battle is resolved with a Traitor or Break Conditioning.

If you retreat your opponent wins the battle, losing 0 troops, losing 0 spice, their leader is not killed.

ALLIANCE

You may allow your ally to use your DISCOUNT SHIPPING as well as your THREE TYPES OF SHIPMENT ability.

You may also reveal spice from your hidden area to pay for an ally's shipment. (You don't lose the spice)
